

The St Anne Line School Vision

At St Anne Line Junior School we know that everyone is important and we love it when somebody does really well. But we also know that team work is absolutely essential because nobody can do everything all by themselves. Because of this we know that the community in which we live and learn is really special and we want parents, carers and governors to feel a part of the learning processes that happen in school and at home.

One of the most essential things we learn is how to follow the St Anne Line Way. This helps us to know that everyone has rights in our school and our community. Everyone is responsible for themselves and everyone else. Following these values helps to remind us that the differences we see in others help make our school and community a fun and exciting place to live and learn. Remembering all the things we have in common helps us to get along everyday.

School is the place to learn but we know that learning happens from the moment we are born and then throughout our lives. So we hope that in our school we will learn the skills and be able to identify the strengths and weaknesses we have so that we can learn about the past, learn in the present and develop what is necessary to help us in the future. At the end of our time at St Anne Line we will feel confident that we can move onto secondary school and do our best there too.

One of the most important reasons why we feel confident is because we have learnt that success involves taking risks and making mistakes. We will know that working together and helping each other succeed feels good and means we all make good progress. We will recognise that the adults in our school also learn in order to help us be successful. Importantly, we will learn the ways to ensure the learning we do keep us safe.

It is because we all learn differently that our curriculum is flexible and as we all have different experiences our school provides a broad range of activities to make sure everyone has similar opportunities. Our learning should be fun, interactive and allow us to succeed. This learning will happen within the classroom and outside with our teachers who will be a range of people who can share with us different experiences. We will use technology in school and to allow learning to take place at home and with the support of parents and other adults. It will also enable us to share ideas and information across a wider community.

The most important thing we learn at school is that God is at the centre of our lives and that He has a clear plan for us and everyone in our community. By listening to Him and following His way we are sure to make the right decisions as we travel along.
